WHY AUTO BREAK-INS?

Due to the proliferation of electronic devices, such as GPS units and I-PODS, instances of vehicle break-ins are on the rise nationwide. The reason vehicle break-ins are becoming so common place is because people make it far too easy and tempting for a thief to gain access to their vehicle by leaving valuables in plain view.

Thieves can quickly enter vehicles, often sight unseen. Many use the stolen items to help them get drugs to support their addiction. Increasingly, we are finding that thieves are using personal information found in vehicles to commit identity theft.

A garage door opener left in a vehicle along with a registration card which most motorists keep in the glove box can provide a thief with your home address and the means to gain entry.
